

Reducing Current and Future Groundwater Demand

- Future growth is currently projected at 135 MGD by 2045
- Changing development trends could greatly reduce the need for additional water resources
 - Prohibit permanent landscape irrigation for new construction in the NFRWSP where MFLs are not being met
- Utility water conservation plans should be strengthened to accelerate conservation